

JOHN S. SAYWARD, Editor.

MONDAY, APRIL 1, 1844.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY
OF KENTUCKYFOR VICE PRESIDENT,
GEORGE EVANS,
OF MAINE.SUBJECT TO THE DECISION OF THE BALTIMORE
WHIG CONVENTION.

SEE FIRST PAGE.

This day the elections in the Fifth and Seventh Congressional districts have another trial to elect their representatives. In the Fifth district there will probably be no choice. In the Seventh district we fear Mr Cary will be elected. He has traversed the whole district, ostensibly for making speeches in his own behalf, but really to whip in the disaffected political leaders, by threats and promises. He left this city a day or two since, in the confident belief that he had spiked the guns of his opponents in his own party; had sweetened this, gagged that, and wheedled another, until all agreed to support his election as the easiest way of getting rid of such an intolerable office seeking bore.

Few men would think it much of a victory to be elected in this way and shoved in at the tail of Congress, after having been three times rejected in a district that in 1840 gave between three and four hundred loco majority; particularly when the candidate is pledged not only to take himself out of the way for the next Congress, but to go his whole strength for the Hancock nomination? If Cary was much of a man he would have insisted upon more favorable terms.

We have been amused for a year or two past, at the attempts made, particularly in the Age, at the end or during the session of the Legislature, to make great men out of very little ones. Sometimes they break out in biographical notices of Senators, whose friends and acquaintances are astonished to hear and to see that Squire A. has such a thing as a biography at all—and still more confounded to find it in a news paper. Then, again, letter-writers tell us of the wondrous feats of another, who proves himself to be Demosthenes, Cicero, and Bonaparte, united in one—who at home is never thought to be anything but plain Tom, Dick, or Harry—or perchance we have brief editorial notices of Speaker D. and President D., and committee man S., cracking them up as of "the tallest kind" of great men. Alas! how soon these distinguished men fall into obscurity and neglect, after they return home. Would it not be well for them and their indiscreet friends to remember that Frankfort the Head of Winter Navigation.

Our correspondent at Frankfort says he is informed that the people of Belfast have, after working with a large crew, five or six days, succeeded in cutting a passage through the ice, that vessels may pass to and from Belfast. That harbor has been frozen up for the last sixty-two days whilst Frankfort was only closed by ice thirteen days. Will the Belfast people claim that place to be the head of winter navigation after this, and advocate the construction of a railroad from Canada to that place, when Frankfort has a decided advantage over that for being the head of winter navigation? Vessels can always come to Frankfort when Boston and Portland harbors are open.

The Calais Advertiser states that Mr Cary and others, have forwarded to Congress a petition to have lumber from the St. John river, admitted free of duty into the United States. He is very anxious to get a seat in Congress to advocate that petition. In order to do this he left his own country, knowing he could do nothing where personally known, and wandered into Washington and Hancock, to persuade the bores to help him this time upon a promise, forever hereafter to "lay low and keep dark."

Cassius M. Clay, the great Abolitionist of Kentucky, the sincere friend to the Slave, and who a short time since emancipated his own slaves—thus divesting himself of legally entrenched rights of property worth some $40,000—in a letter in reply to one of the many who have written him for an expression of his views respecting the Presidency, declares that it is his decided determination to vote for HENRY CLAY for President. He says, "For myself, after looking calmly upon all the surrounding circumstances, Conscience, Patriotism, and (if others prefer the term) enlightened self-interest, constrains me to vote for Henry Clay. The Tariff, the Currency, the Lands, Economy, Executive and Ministerial Responsibility, and many other interests, all depend, in my humble judgment, on Mr Clay's election for beneficial determination."

Arrested for Murder.

Corporal John M. Holder, of the U. S. Army, has been arrested and put in jail in Cincinnati. He is the person charged with shooting a man and his wife near the Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, some three or four weeks since. The woman, who was in a delicate situation at that time, died in ten hours; the man recovered. Holder went into the man's house on the plea of looking up deserters from the barracks, the man ordered him out, when he drew a revolving pistol and shot five times at the pa-

More Inventions.

This is the very great discovery, particularly in matters relating to steam and the propulsion of vessels. We see that a mechanic of Edinburgh has invented a new method of propelling vessels through the water by steam. It is a simple revolving cylinder, placed amidships, which acts as a windlass, and makes a rope of the sea.

The grand jury at Providence have returned true bills against the Gordons for the murder of Amasa Sprague, last winter; the prisoners were brought into court and arraigned, and their trial was assigned for the second Monday in April.

Horrible Calamity.

On the 19th inst. as the wife of Mr Griffin, of Lebanon, N. H., was at work boiling pike in order to make rosin, in attempting to remove the kettle she accidentally overturned it, and the contents immediately took fire and spread to all parts of the floor. Mrs G.'s clothing took fire, but as she had three children in the room, the youngest but three months old, she disregarded her own sufferings in order to save them. Unable to open door, she burst through the window, and her screams soon brought her husband to her relief, who found her lying on the snow in intense agony.

Her clothes were completely burnt off, but still with presence of mind enough to tell him now to save the children, in which he partially succeeded, to the peril of his own life. The poor but heroic woman died at nine o'clock in the evening. One of the children, it is feared, cannot survive.

Peru.

The New York Herald says—We have received the Peruvians of the 16th and 18th of November. We learn by it that the army under the command of Nieto and Castilla had completely defeated, on the 25th of Oct. the dictatorial force under Gen Guardia. The engagement took place in Campa Santa Antonio Santa Rosa, and two generals, eight colonels, five lieutenant colonels and a great number of other officers have been taken prisoners.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday March 27. In the Senate, Mr Simmons of R. I. made an able speech in defence of the doctrine of Protection. The Military Academy Bill was reported.

In the House several resolutions were introduced when the House went into Committee on the Army Bill.

Mexico.

The National Intelligencer says among the documents in their original tongue belonging to the Mexican protest of last November, against the annexation of Texas to the United States (published in the original tongue in the Mexican papers,) we find the following paragraph in the instructions from Mr Bocanegra to Gen. Almonte, which at this moment cannot be without interest for any of our readers:

"The settlers in Texas, admitted there by the liberal confidence only of the Mexican nation, were generally received and kindly treated. Nevertheless, under no pretence or another, they speedily revolted; but with the motive and purpose only (as is known to all) of filching that territory from its rightful possessors. Towards Mexico they have never lost the character of subjects, nor they (citizens all of the United States) who gathered in to the aid of the rebellion, that of mere adventurers. If at present there be a party in Texas which strives to bring about its incorporation with the United States, it is not from any change in their situation, nor any new titles they have acquired to a separation from the country on which they of right depend, but plainly from the experience of their own notions incapacity to form and constitute an independent Government. Setting out with these deep convictions, his Excellency the Provisional President feels himself bound to linger an aggression, such as this will be, unexampled in the annals of the world, from being consummated; and were it indispensable that the Mexican nation should seek, even through the disasters of war, the safety of its rights, it must make that last appeal to the most High, to Justice, and to its own courage."

At the last session of the General Assembly a charter was granted for an insane Asylum, towards the foundation of which the late Hon Nicholas Brown had bequeathed the sum of THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS. A number of benevolent gentlemen have interested themselves in the effort to raise such a sum as shall render this bequest available. A meeting of these gentlemen was held in this city last week, when Cyrus Butler, Esq. subscribed the magnificent sum of forty thousand dollars, on condition that an equal sum should be subscribed by others. Such progress has been made, we learn, leaves no doubt that the requisite amount will be promptly raised, and the institution placed on a basis which shall secure its usefulness and permanency, and shall bring upon its founders the prayers and blessings of thousands.—Providence Journal

Are the Lumbering Interests benefitted by a Protective Tariff?

Most certainly and to a large extent. Repeat the protective Tariff and break down the manufacturers of Lowell, Providence, Fall River and the rest of the large establishments spread over the country and all who are engaged in manufacturing lumber of all kinds, Boards, Dimension stuff, Shingles, Laths, &c., would soon find that their markets were destroyed. Yes, stop the manufacturing of cotton and wool alone in this country and it would prostrate one half of the lumbering interests on this river very suddenly. Then go a step further with the free trade theory and admit the New Brunswick lumber into our markets from the St. John river, &c., free of duty and we reckon that Saw mills Shingle-mills, Lath-mills, &c., might in a short time be bought pretty considerable cheap down east here. As there is no class of the community more benefitted by a protective tariff than the manufacturers of lumber. Not only the mill owners who make large lumber, but every man who makes Laths, Shingles, &c.—We throw out these few hints just to call the attention of people to this important subject.

The total cost of the London police is £41,311 per annum.

Lachrymæ of 1844.

By their fruits ye shall know them.
To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

In a recent number of the Whig, which came to hand by last night's mail, I notice some editorial remarks in relation to the changes of the Legislature just adjourned, which read as follows.—"The singular character of the Legislature, and the more singular Legislation, have led to the common opinion among the people, that it was the queerest compound of humanity ever collected in Maine."

So far as I know the views of the citizens in this region, the above quotation bespeaks their sentiments most truly. Rich and poor, old and young, white heads and black, Democrats and Whigs, all denounce their acts from beginning to end. Aside from the somewhat more liberal policy in relation to foreign capital, what have we to show for the seventy five thousand dollars drawn out of the people's pockets, which they have squandered the winter past. Have they done any good? have they created anything whatever to advance the public interest? Nothing—so far as I can learn, nothing at all. Well then, pray what have they done. I make the enquiry Mr Editor for information. If we are correctly informed, the people in this town understand they have done much evil.

For several years past, we have suffered all the attending extreme chaotic legislation, and I have been chagrined in witnessing its onward march. Our statute laws have been hacked up, and ten thousand new ones made, until no one, not even the best lawyer in the State knows what they are. This, under modern democracy, we must expect. But I was unprepared for the destruction of our time honored and dearly cherished institutions, established by our patriotic sires, and left us as a legacy for our benefit.

This work of destruction commenced last year, and is accomplished this, so far as two branches of our government are concerned, viz., the Judicial and military. Our Judiciary is destroyed, and our militia system, that branch of our government that has been the admiration of the world, and was devised by our forefathers and which has proved to be so salutary in its influences, and so peculiarly adapted to our republican form of government, I understand is destroyed. Now Mr Editor, so far as I know the minds of the people here, all feel humbled and disgraced. All feel that the honor of the State has been sacrificed. And all are led to enquire by what authority, was it done. What right had they to make this innovation in our system of government? Was it called for? was there a single petition before them praying for the destruction of this main pillar of our government? No not one. But there was one, at least, praying for wise legislation on the subject. And the signers of that petition only desired that the system might be put back to 1834 from whence a series of unwise and ruinous legislation had torn it, and that too, with out a single call, a single petition from any source, but wholly the result of the cheap system of legislation of the times.

On the 21st ultimo, in accordance with the expression of the sentiment of the people throughout the State, Mr French, chairman of the Military committee on the part of the Senate, reported a bill, which, with a few exceptions, was drawn up with consummate wisdom and judgment. This bill the Senate passed by an overwhelming majority, but its passage was always considered doubtful in the House. It was known that there were a set of ignoramuses in the House, as there always are, that were bent on the downfall of the militia system. But its friends felt entirely safe on the part of the Senate. Not a doubt existed but what they would, at least, prevent its ruin. In this, however, we were deceived. That body, in a most unaccountable manner, turned a complete sumerset, and it is destroyed. And now the question is, what is best to be done in this emergency? I cannot answer for any other part of the State; but in this town, the people, old and young, are resolved to restore to our government next year, what has been wrested from it this. We here believe, that a well organized, well disciplined, intelligent and honorable militia is a peace preserver, not a war promoter, but a peace preserver. And although modern legislators may honestly believe they can hasten and consummate the millennium, yet I have seen, since their adjournment, an exhibition of the public morals, which is sufficient to convince me that we are not quite ready to dispense with physical force. And I shall here recommend, that all light corps in the State maintain voluntarily, their organization, and that, between this and the fall elections, all friends of order—of less legislation, and consequently of less litigation—of less drafts on the pockets of the people to pay the expenses of the lazy lubbers who lounge away the winter at Augusta; and who desire the stability of our time cherished institutions, should unite, regardless of party, and elect such men to represent them in both branches of the Legislature, as will shadow forth their will.—Let us have such representatives as will legislate for the public good, and then go home.—Let us have no more log-rolling, or hobby horses for demagogues, but let us select such men as possess honesty and common sense.

THE TARIFF VINDICATED!

READY FOR DELIVERY

THE publishers of the Bangor Courier have published a large edition of the great speech of Mr. EVANS in vindication of the present Tariff and the Principles of Protection. Clay, Calhoun, Committee, and all persons wishing to obtain this masterly speech are requested to send their orders, with remittances, to the Bangor Courier. Price 1 cent single, $1.50 per one hundred.

From New York Tribune.

There is really a man that long had kept his kindly feelings as a prize: With fellow men that laughed and wept While beamed attention in their eyes,— That when away they coldly turned, And deemed its love an idle care, Hath quenched the fires that for them burned, And nursed to hate the ashes there!

The cherish'd hopes of youthful years— The joys defined for coming time; The thrill of sweet Affection's tears, That touch the heart—a soothing chime; A word unkind, a glance of scorn, May wither when they farthest seem, And bid the stricken spirit mourn, The fading of a pleasant dream.

Thus Life hath oft been stripped of smiles, And Death divested of its gloom, And Friendship lost its pleasant smiles, And man his tenderness entombed. Then ne'er refuse, but aye receive Love's offering, and give thine own; A cold return may deeply grieve A heart that beats for thee alone!
